AWI CAPITAL MOVERS SHOWCASE OVERVIEW

Female capital movers are finding the best investments today that will grow Africa's future tomorrow.

Advancing Women in Investing is a collaborative network of more than 70 first-time and emerging female managers focused on frontier and emerging markets who support each other to share learnings, co-invest and raise capital.

Our long-term goal is to create a movement of change to democratize access to funding and opportunity for emerging female capital movers.

We want to accelerate access to funding and partnerships, affordable tools and resources, networking opportunities, deal sourcing and co-investors.

Through thought leadership, we will use what we learn from our network to change mindsets about investing in women investors.

Supporting women promotes inclusive growth.

Catalyzing innovative investments and supporting robust market growth starts with ensuring female capital movers are represented on investment teams and receive backing as managers.

Yet, a significant gap exists for women to access capital at all levels. We want to change this.

In the following pages, you will find a cadre of forward-looking female capital movers utilizing a broad spectrum of strategies to target high-quality private investment opportunities on the African continent. We encourage you to reach out if you would like more information on an individual manager.
